EI#2 instructed RI#3 to take the medication when convenient during the meal. EI#2 then left the dining room and returned to the medication room, without observing RI#3 take the medication. The same practice was observed by the surveyor on May 17, 2022, during the lunch meal, when EI#2 presented RI#1 with an insulin pen, which was due at that time. RI#1 identified the medication and the dosage. EI#2 then informed RI#1 he (EI#2) would leave the insulin pen with RI#1 to self-administer when convenient during the meal. EI#2 informed RI#1 he (EI#2) would pick up the insulin pen after RI#1 completed the injection. EI#1 turned to leave the dining room area, then RI#1 elected to take the insulin at that time, so EI#1 remained in the dining room and observed. The insulin pen was returned to the medication cart by EI#2 after the injection was administered by RI#1. On May 17, 2022, the surveyor discussed with EI#1 that the acceptable community standard for staff was to observe residents taking medications, instead of only delivering the medications to residents. EI#1 verbalized understanding and stated staff would be retrained.	A 504
